Smart Growth team to return

Written by Citizen staff
Sunday, 15 February 2009

The Smart Growth on the Ground team will be back in Prince George for two workshops in March on the future of the city's downtown.

On March 4, topics to be covered include air quality, commercial energy, renewable energy potential, residential energy use, storm water management and street trees.

On March 5, alternative transportation, climate change adaptation, heritage, housing and local food will be on the agenda.

Both workshops run from 6 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. at the Ramada hotel, 444 George Street.

SGOG is described as a "collaborative visioning exercise" at creating a 25-year vision for the future of downtown Prince George based on "smart growth" principles and guided by extensive community consultation.
